The Senior Class Presents
1961 Centerama

Like a beehive our school is humming with busy occupants. Some are working, some are idling, they come and they go; but finally with the coming of spring the seniors go out from their dwelling of four years even as the bees swarm from their hive. For three months the hive is inactive. With the coming of fall, the hive again begins to hum with new occupants and the cycle of knowledge continues.

Activities Within

Mr. Lingenfelter, high school principal, presents his annual welcome address to the students of Marion Center Joint High School at the Orientation Assembly. This is held at the beginning of each school year.

The school presents a combined dramatic and musical program each Christmas season. This year the dramatic presentation was "Why The Chimes Rang." It was accompanied by a background of Christmas music by the Mixed Chorus. Judie Condon portrayed the angel.

The students appearing in this picture are participating in the mock presidential campaign which was held in our school for the first time this year.

Alma Mater

Hail, oh Alma Mater, hail!
Praises loud shall rise
As our gallant green and gold,
Raise we to the skies.
Green and gold, green and gold,
True we'll ever be,
Alma Mater, we will pledge,
Our love and loyalty.

Alma Mater, school we love,
Hold your standard high.
We, thy children, sing to thee,
As the years go by.
Green and gold, green and gold,
True we'll ever be,
Alma Mater we will pledge,
Our love and loyalty.

In Command

Mr. William A. McCreery

Mr. William A. McCreery, the supervising principal of the Marion Center Joint Schools, began his teaching career here in the social studies field in 1925.

He attended the Blairsville High School, and Westminster College, where he obtained his Bachelor of Science degree in business administration, social studies, and Spanish. He continued his schooling with several summers of graduate work in education at Pennsylvania State University, and then transferred to the University of Pittsburgh to secure his Master of Education degree in school administration.

Our supervising principal enjoys the outdoors and spends much of his spare time on the family farm near the Conemaugh Dam. He enjoys hunting, and color photography, and likes to read biography and historical fiction. His favorite historical character is Abraham Lincoln, and his favorite biographies are Carl Sandburg's Prairie Years and Charnwood's Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. McCreery resides in Marion Center during the school week and spends his week ends with his sister in Indiana, Pa., or on the family farm during pleasant weather.

Looking back over the past thirty-six years of service in the Marion Center schools, Mr. McCreery regards as high points in his experience the formation of the Marion Center Joint Schools, and the steady progress toward the provision of modern and adequate school facilities for children of the area. What was once only a dream is now becoming a reality through far-sighted planning and cooperation of our school boards, as well as the support of the people of the community.

Mr. McCreery has this to say about our schools: "Due to the excellent professional services of our teachers, the fine work of our non-professional staff, and the achievements of our students, the Marion Center Joint Schools are recognized as among the best."

Of The Beehive

Mr. Watson W. Lingenfelter

Mr. Lingenfelter has given 19 years service as a teacher to Marion Center High School. The last two he has served as high school principal. He resides at R.D., Home, Pennsylvania, with his wife and two sons, Duane and Brent.

In college Mr. Lingenfelter majored in social studies and minored in mathematics. He has a Bachelor of Science Degree from Indiana State College, and a Master of Education Degree from the University of Pittsburgh.

Some of his hobbies are reading and sports in general. When asked what he liked he said, "I like to see pupils take advantage of the opportunity provided for them to get an education."

Mr. Graham S. Baskin

Mr. Baskin is in his fifteenth year of service at Marion Center High School. For the last two years he has been assistant principal. Prior to that he taught health and physical education. He resides with his wife at R.D. #2, Marion Center, Pennsylvania. He received a Bachelor of Science Degree from Slippery Rock State Teachers College and a Master of Education Degree from the University of Pittsburgh. He has also attended Pennsylvania State University and Duquesne University.

SPORTS

The Marion Center basketball team proved through their 1960-61 season to have one of the finest teams in the state. Coach Williams drilled his players in a fast moving, precision brand of basketball. The team itself was full of enthusiasm and wanted to play their best—not for themselves, but for their school. Excellent team and school spirit was demonstrated by this potent squad. With this desire and “know how” the Stingers played their way into the County League Championship and District Six Championship. Through team work they played very effective ball. With Bence, Bowser, Hankinson, Lydic, and Stadtmiller as the starting five, the quintet proved to be a tough defense for the opposing team. With the coach and players contributing their utmost basketball potential, Marion Center can well be proud of its team.

Recognition to the Hive

Ron Stewart, a member of the wrestling team, was recognized for putting a hell of a lot of his own sweat and blood into the sport. After accomplishing this, he went on to win his first wrestling title. From that point on, he was a winner. He was a winner, and he was a winner.

But, so far, the wrestling team has not started strong. They have lost their first match, but after a few more matches, they will be a winner. But we are very confident that they will be a winner. Let's hope they will be a winner.

Competitive Spirits Are Aroused

A wrestling tournament was sponsored between the home rooms in both the junior and senior school. The participants were signed up by their home room president, if they wished to support their room. The finals were held in the auditorium during home room period. The thrilling action of the matches was captured in this photo of a senior high bout between Howard Goltz, Room 36, and Neill Hill, Room 8. Howard was the proud victor for his room.

These boys are the pleased winners of trophies awarded to them for their skill in the sport of archery. The school sponsored an archery contest in the Marion Center park, under the direction of their instructor, Mr. McGinnis. Kneeling: Jim Smith, first place. Left to right: Andy Allison, third place; Gwilym Deitman, second place; and Terry Haskins, fourth place.

Editors Work to Meet Deadline

Mr. Miller, Yellow Jacket advisor, carefully checks the editorials for the school paper. Mr. Miller and his competent staff publish a paper each week except when vacations or other events interfere.

Lana Gibson and Benjamin Trunzo carefully proof read news accounts for the Indiana County High Teen Talk news column. Lana and Lana are the Marion Center as well as for the Teen Talk column as well as members of the high school paper, the Yellow Jacket.

Rolando Toccafondi and Richard Rethi, Yellow Jacket editors, supervise and instruct reporter-typist Joyce Haight as all toil earnestly to meet the Friday deadline.

Sandra Barr and Benny Trunzo, both members of the Yellow Jacket staff, are distributing the weekly editions of the school paper to the assigned home rooms. This publication keeps the entire school's population accurately informed on school activities.

Athletic Ability Pays Off

These are the members of the Varsity Club. Each boy has earned membership in the club by earning at least one varsity letter. Under the direction of their advisor, Mr. Baskin, they attend to the scheduling of various sports events. Bottom row: Robert Smith. Second row: Andrew Allison, George Krivonick. Third row: Jack Lydie, Melvin Hankinson, Fred Bowser. Fourth row: James Wilkerson, Ronald Stewart, Lyle Williams, and Mr. Baskin, advisor. Fifth row: David Hamilton, Preston Fordyce, George Caylor, Bruce Mack, Lyle Gross, Howard Foltz.

A varsity player grasps for an airborne basketball in the varsity-faculty game. Of course our mighty Stingers copped the game by an approximate score of 104-47. Identifiable members of the opposing team are Mr. Taft and Mr. Zbur. Although the score was not as close as the faculty intended, everyone had a wonderful time and really enjoyed the game.

Andy Allison and Bob Smith assist Harold Moody in the fitting for his Varsity Jacket. These boys were each awarded jackets for their participation on the wrestling squad. Any wrestler with at least two varsity letters is eligible for a sports jacket.

They Learn Something of Value

The officers of the Junior Historians are conducting a club meeting, supervised by their sponsor, Mrs. Pauch.

Agriculture Course Pays

John McMullen, member of the Marion Center Young Farmers' Association, explains his method of keeping permanent records of his crop production and soil analysis. He prepared the enlarged map being shown.

The proper adjustment of a map is explained by Mr. Cook to Harry Nichol. This system was completely replaced by the 12th grade cultural student.

Joe Lemmon, Donald Monsekey and Clar Braughler are preparing enlarged soil maps for their home farms. Mr. Cook is explaining the system of numbering and lettering to be used on the map.

Assures Skill In

Good Hivekeepers

Mary Arskewine was responsible for the opening and closing of the presentation. As Mary opened the book, the chapter and the text of the presentation were read by Judy Waters and Audrey Bonney. This was all a very important and effective method of presenting the material to the show.

The Junior Class presented its annual play, The Arrival of Kitty. The entire production, direction, and performance of the play was a success and the proceeds were very favorable. A great deal of credit is aptly due to everyone connected with the dramatic production, certainly true of the entire cast. Front row, Left to right—Anna Wymer, Tony Nastase, Judy Condon, Robert Bence, and Ronald Gilkey. Back row: Andrea Renosky, Thomas Shureman, Rebecca Walker, and Bruce Williams.

Bob Bence and Tony Nastase exercise all the acting potential they possess in preparing for the Junior Play. Bob and Tony portrayed Bob Baxter, and William Winkler, respectively.

Help School Spirit

—Sally Dore and Margaret are among the children who are helping to raise money for the school spirit fund. They are wearing their school uniforms and are standing in front of a blackboard. Left to right: William, John, Helen, Harold, Susan, Margaret, Evelyn, Louise, Joyce, and Mary. Margaret is holding a book.

Mr. Williams, principal of the Boston City School, is interested in the school spirit fund. He is asking the children to help him raise money for the school spirit fund. The children are very happy to help him and are doing their best to raise money for the school spirit fund.

Encourage Enthusiastic

The group photo was taken during the annual school assembly. The students and faculty members are all smiling and appear to be at a school event. The photo was taken outdoors and the group is arranged in several rows. Some individuals are standing in the back and others are sitting or kneeling in the front. They are all smiling and appear to be at a school event.
